Rosco is dedicated to ensuring that its products are compliant with worldwide regulatory systems.

Rosco products (articles) are fully compliant with the SVHC restrictions of the European Union's Registration, Evaluation, Authorization and Restriction of Chemicals (REACH) law.

The substances listed below are not contained as ingredients in or used in the normal manufacturing of any Rosco product.*

An integral part of REACH is the development of a "Candidate List" of substances for Authorization. Substances are added to the Candidate List by ECHA and have been identified as Substances of Very High Concern (SVCH). The inclusion of a substance in the List may impose legal obligations on companies who manufacture, import, or use the listed substances on their own, in preparations or in articles.

The current Candidate List of substances as of June 14, 2023 is identified here: <https://echa.europa.eu/candidate-list-table>

As more substances are added to the SVHC list and become officially subject to Authorization, Rosco will update this letter.

We will undertake to inform you in a timely manner of any aspects which may have an impact on our compliance with this regulation and on any aspects which may have influence on the supply and delivery of our products.

Further, we declare that we have processes and systems in place to ensure continued compliance with the REACH directive. If you have any questions, please contact us.
